

Building update

28/9/18

The builders have been battling the wind and rain but have still been doing a tremendous job.

Most of the foundations have been built with all the pipes and bricks finished. We are sure at this point it will be finished in no time.

A couple of weeks ago, the children at Waltham school were visited by the safety manager [Jem]. He gave the children safety advice and told them what the builders are doing. The children have been enjoying watching the builder's progress.

Thursdays P.E. is still being held on the field but the children are forbidden to go past the barriers, and now we are waiting for the building to arrive.

Building update

9.11.18.

The builders have worked very hard because they have finished the outside and are now working on the inside which is coming on very well as you can see from the pictures.

Here's a glimpse of the children's toilets.

This will be the entrance from the playground; it will all be tarmacked.
